Hypothesis

A1 H° = There is no need to develop leadership ability in boys and girls of age group 17-21 who are studying in colleges in India.

A1 H a = There is definite need to develop leadership ability in boys and girls of age group 17-21 who are studying in colleges in India.

A2 H° = Leadership qualities cannot be effectively developed in the target age group of boys and girls of age group 17-21 who are studying in colleges in India.

A2 H a = Leadership qualities can be effectively developed in the target age group of boys and girls of age group 17-21 who are studying in colleges in India.

A3 H° = There is no difference in Leadership abilities between those who undergo structured, disciplined regimental training in the target age group of boys and girls of age group 17-21 who are studying in colleges in India and those who don’t.

A3 H a = There is definite difference in Leadership abilities between those who undergo structured, disciplined regimental training in the target age group of boys and girls of age group 17-21 who are studying in colleges in India and those who don’t.

A4 H° = There is no benefit of developing leadership ability in the target age group in achieving excellence in every walk of life.

A4 H a = There is definite benefit of developing leadership ability in the target age group in achieving excellence in every walk of life.