Hypothesis

- Indian Doctors perceive Indian & MNC products differently when they prescribe.

- Indian Doctors get influenced by global nature of the brand (availability under the same brand name across the world) while prescribing.

- Image of the company does not influence the Doctors but the product range of the company affects prescription behaviour of the Doctor.