Research methodology

The concern data should be collecting from field visits with questionnaire scheduled and Cartographic techniques, much of the data will be compiled from secondary sources. Collected data will be analyze through percentage, growth rate, various formulas calculation for fertility and mortality rate may be use etc. the appropriate methodology will be adapted wherever necessary and depending upon the nature of data. All statistical data will be presented through suitable tables, graphs and geographical diagrams.