OBJECTIVES OF STUDY

Following are the objective of the present study

- To create the importance of curriculum designing among the undergraduate teachers.
- To create awareness regarding importance of curriculum development in relation to occupational aspiration
- To study the gender wise perception towards efficacy of economics subject curriculum in relation to development employability skills
- To suggest to the teachers as well as students towards the need for development of occupational skills
- To suggests incorporation of need for occupational skill development in curriculum by various board of studies.