OBJECTIVE OF THE STUDY

Aim of the present study is find out the influence of parental involvement, parental style on academic achievement of high school students. The degree of parental involvement and the type of parenting style will be determined and its various effects will be found out through the study. Study will be carried out on the basis of following major objectives.

I)  To study the effect of parental involvement in school on academic achievement of the student.

II) To investigate the impact of parental involvement in home on academic achievement of student.

III) To find out the influence of democratic parenting style on academic achievement of the student.

IV) To determined the effects of autocratic parenting style on academic achievement of the student.

V)  To search the impact of accepting parenting style on academic achievement of the student.

VI) To investigate the influence of rejecting parenting style on academic achievement of the student.