OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY:

The main objective of this study is as follows:

1. To study the growth and distribution of population since 1971 census year of Sangli district.
2. To analyze influencing factors of density population.
3. To study the demographic characteristic of population.
4. To study the structure of population.
5. To assess the human resources development of the district with emerged problems.