I. Hypothesis :-

1. Activities are not given a place in school timetable during school hours. These are either fixed before or after school hours and many students do not participate in them because it is neither convenient nor compulsory for them to do so.

2. Heavy home work is assigned to students so they do not find time are interested.

3. There may not be appropriate motivation and encouraged from both school and home grounds. This also due to the negligence shown by parents as they themselves may be disinterested.

4. Some students who are slow learners find their home assignments too much and do not find sufficient time to devote to these activities.

5. Sometimes students fell that these activities interfere with their studies therefore whenever they are organized students participate in them unwillingly.

6. Students are not economically well off to bear the extra expenses involved in participating in these activities.

7. Some students are not familiar with the importance of these activities due to lack of guidance.
