1) Research Methodology

The present research will be done by using Descriptive method it will be supported by Questionnaire & interview, visits etc. Descriptive Method is appropriate method to know the present situation for the research. This method has been taken with the help of questionnaire design for the purpose. As the data received from the questioner is inadequate so interview techniques & visits also useful for this research topic.