Objectives of the Present Work

The proposed study has following objectives:

1) To understand and explore the parent-child relationship in the novels by ‘Shashi Deshpande’ with the help of insights from Psychology and Sociology.

2) To explore the psychological, sociological and domestic complexities of Parent-child relationship.

3) To understand the author’s mindset and perceptions related to this topic of research.

4) To contribute to knowledge in the field of Psychology and Sociology and Indian Writing in English with special focus on Parent-child relationship.

5) To make this study a guide to readers, parents and children to make them aware of various delicacies and aspects of this relationship.