Objectives of the Study

1. To see whether the dramatists in the pre-Independence times have portrayed the political powers of the non-contemporary times with some intentions.

2. To see what evil forces the political powers stand for in the plays understudy.

3. To see whether the portrayals of the political powers are colored in the grey shade.

To see whether the political powers represent any contemporary power structures of the times in the plays are...