Hypothesis of the Study

The main purpose of this study is to explore the quality education of private schools. I will test the following hypothesis to help deduct the data analysis for accomplishing my research study.

1. The current educational status of private schools in Nepal is better compared to the status in the past.
2. The private secondary schools of Nepal are adopting various kinds of new practices for quality education.
3. The private schools are facing the problems of political instability, educational policy, basic infrastructure, quality of teachers and on while practicing quality education strategies.
4. The private secondary schools of Nepal are trying to avoid political interference, to formulate new educational policy, establishing their own kind of professional organizations.
5. There is no political activity in the school.