HYPOTHESIS OF THE STUDY

1. There is no significant difference between the mean score of public and private sector banks regarding employees-management relationship.
2. There is no significant difference between the mean score of public and private sector banks regarding job satisfaction level in relation to nature of job.
3. There is no significant difference between the mean score of public and private sector banks regarding job satisfaction level in relation to the working conditions.
4. There is no significant difference between the mean score of public and private sector banks regarding job satisfaction level in relation to job stress.
5. There is no significant difference between the mean score of public and private sector banks regarding job satisfaction level in relation to job involvement.