Objectives of Research –

1) The Researcher seek to find out the various types of crime committed against women in India.

2) The Researcher seeks to understand and analyse the psychological, social, and legal aspects of crime against women and to explore the merits of the empowerment of women in the society.

3) The Researcher seeks to examine the factors responsible for the violence taking place against women in Society.

4) The Researcher seeks to identify the specific action required from the governmental authorities and judiciary to implement the existing legislatures and mitigate the misery of various crimes committed against women.