OBJECTIVES OF THE PRESENT WORK

The major objectives of the study are as follows:

1. To access the prevalence of violence among the women working in the unorganized sectors.
2. To study the different types of violence faced by women within the four walls of her secure home.
3. To study and analyze the interdependent attributes of long hours of working, poverty and violence.
4. To study the co-relation between education, awareness and effective implementing of laws along with governmental stringency in controlling violence.
5. To study and suggest schemes or methods for progressive laws and role of NGO’s in curbing violence
6. In the light of the findings to make recommendations for possible law reforms, policy and practical action to deal with violence in India.