Objectives of Research

The purpose of the research is to study developments and challenges involved in soft-skills training in professional colleges. This will be accomplished by breaking down the research into objectives as listed below and proceeding with research as detailed in following sections.

Objectives:

1. To identify correlation between work-experience and soft-skill development
2. To identify factors effecting soft-skills training
3. To identify parameters and attributes that control Soft-skill Trainer effectiveness
4. To identify stakeholders’ perceptions about what soft-skills are needed
5. To identify correlation between learner segmentation and soft-skill curriculum suitability.