AIMS AND OBJECTIVES:

The aims and objective of the present work is

i) To study the practice of Organic farming in Dhule district.

ii) To find out area under different crops organically produced in the study area.

iii) To study the various methods of pest management bio-fertilizers, organic manures, cropping pattern, effective micro-organism technology.

iv) To examine the merits and demerits of organic farming.

v) To study the economics of organic farming.

vi) To study the problem and prospect of organic farming in Dhule District.

vii) To study the marketing for organic farming.