HYPOTHESES

In the light of the above cited objectives and background (preamble), the researcher has set up the following hypothesis for the present study. This will be tested by application of test of significance.

H0 That there is a relationship between Blake and Mouton’s leadership styles and the conflict resolution styles as presented by Bernardin and Alvares (1976).

H1 There is no significant relationship between leadership styles and conflict resolution techniques.