HYPOTHESIS

Based on the given set of objectives, the following hypothesis have been taken for the purpose of study:

- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Educational problems of children based on the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Social problems of children based on the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Educational and Social problems of children based on the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Educational problems of Boy Child in relation to the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Social problems of Boy Child in relation to the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Educational and Social problems of Boy Child in relation to the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Educational problems of Girl Child in relation to the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Social problems of Girl Child in relation to the Employment status of the Mothers.
- There shall be a significant difference between the Educational and Social problems of Girl Child in relation to the Employment status of the Mothers.

- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Educational problems of Children of Rural areas in relation to the Employment Status of the Mothers.

- There shall be a significant difference between the Educational and Social problems of Children of Rural areas in relation to the Employment Status of the Mothers.

- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional, and Social problems of Children of Rural areas in relation to the Employment Status of the Mothers.

- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Educational problems of Children of Urban areas in relation to the Employment Status of the Mothers.

- There shall be a significant difference between the Emotional and Social problems of Children of Urban areas in relation to the Employment Status of the Mothers.

- There shall be a significant difference between the Educational and Social problems of Children of Urban areas in relation to the Employment Status of the Mothers.

- There shall be a significant difference in the psychological problems of the children based on the Employment status of the Mothers.