HYPOTHESIS

- The application of the word ‘Hindu’, its precise meaning and concept shall directly influence the behaviour and attitude creating awareness amongst the common people.
- The traditional approach to concepts of marriage, divorce, adoption and succession shall be replaced by liberal interpretation and broader outlook.
- The amendments made have changed the law still many loopholes remain where the law is silent, making women and children suffer the most. In this aspect the reform measures and practical solutions can be achieved by spreading awareness and empowering Hindu females with their due rights.
- Certain reforms shall have direct influence in family matters that are to be implemented through proper legislation by the government.
- The dream of our Constitution-makers of having a Uniform Civil Code can be achieved by reforming the personal laws and implementing measures common to all.
