I. Introduction

The development of women entrepreneurship is a complex phenomena and it requires special attentions. In this research work what is women entrepreneurship and various problems faced by them in the development of women entrepreneurship will be critically studied.

About entrepreneurship in small scale industries encyclopaedia Britannica has pointed that, Entrepreneurship is meant the function of seeking investment and production opportunity, organisation and enterprise to undertake a new production process, raising capital, hiring labour, arranging the supply of raw materials, finding site, introducing a new technique and commodities. Discovering new source of raw materials and selecting top managers for day to day operations of the enterprise.

Women Entrepreneurship plays a vital role in the development of small scale industries and in Indian exports. Small scale industries are sharing a significant figure.

II. Significance

The present study is significant with special reference to following three points:

1. In the age of globalization women entrepreneurs are playing a key role in developing houseful production centres. They are engaged in creating self employment for themselves and others segment in society.

2. The products and services developed by women are demanded on large scale and they have a good market value.

3. The production of SSI units developed by women is gaining a good deal of support from government as well as NGOs.