OBJECTIVE OF THE STUDY

The main objectives of the works to be done are as follows:

1. Formulate the stochastic models related to the observed industrial system.
2. Study the reliability of the system.
3. Compute various characteristics of system effectiveness.
4. Increase the working uptime of the system.
5. Reduce various costs involved in the system.
6. Comparative study of various models developed for the system.