HYPOTHESIS

An evaluation of Criminal Justice System done on the basis of its adherence to the appropriate theory shows that the two theories relating to the system of criminal justice have operated at various times in our country. The impact of these two theories which have worked in their own way during the recent years shows that there has been no fixed principle followed by the authorities of our country because of which there is criticism against the prevailing system of criminal justice.