OBJECTIVES

1) To show Kundera’s political concern through the political reading of his early novels.

2) To indicate how individuals in Kundera's early novels are politically conscious.

3) To reveal how Kundera through his themes, characters and narrators express the political views, attitudes and position.

4) To show that politics is one of the many important aspects of "reality"