OBJECTIVES

Research objective is a clear, concise, declarative statement, which provides direction to investigator. Objectives are the results sought by the research process, i.e. what the researcher will be able to achieve at the end of the research study or to summarize what is to be achieved.

The main objective of this research is to know about historical motifs, patterns of Mughal Royal jewelry and create a new range of innovative designs for home décor accessories.

1. To study the gender discrimination with special reference to empowerment.

2. To examine the need of government initiations for the upgradation and awareness of women empowerment.

3. To study the government initiations in the view of women empowerment.

To analyze the change in the view of social, political and economic level of women status.