HYPOTHESIS

The prime hypothesis is that perceptions towards successful entrepreneurship would differ significantly by different social factors.

H0: There is no significant difference in perception towards entrepreneurship among male and female entrepreneurs due to different social factors.

H1: There is a significant difference in perception towards entrepreneurship among male and female entrepreneurs due to different social factors.