INTRODUCTION: Assam is a beautiful land situated in the North-East zone of India, the homeland of diverse caste and communities. Assam is called the land of Sankar-Ajan, or a land of peace and social security of human being for a few year back. Since 1947 the situation changed and many violence have taken place times to time to create distrust among the communities of Assam.

Violence is a natural phenomenon of human being from the time of immemorial. Countless violence is occurring including in Assam, in India and all over the world. Violence has its impractical nature over all the communities living in the society. According to Dr. Razia, "Narrow communal feeling of two communities in a area cause of generated of violence India". Assam is not out of that nature. Violence's of Assam has impacted in the field of Economic, Politics, Education and Social all over the Assamese society.
The main root of violence generated when large number of people migrated to Assam during the 40s decades of the 20th Century. Bishmita Medhi said about the migrants, “Climate change is the cause of migrant to North-east India from Bangladesh”. The majority people were in Bengali Muslim community.

Many questions arise times to times among Assamese people about the influx ion of migrants, impact on socio-economic field, and the future of Assam, ending the thinking with social violence. Some prominent violence of Assam are mentioned below-

1. Violence of 1949-50. (All over Assam.)
2. Violence of 19560. (All over Assam.)
3. Violence of 1983 Nellie, ChawalKhowa, Kokrajhar). Bongaigaon,
5. Violence of 1994,( BTAD)
6. Violence of 2004,( BTAD)
7. Violence of 2004,( BTAD)
8. Violence of 2008,( BTAD)
9. Violence of 2012,( BTAD)
10. Violence of 2014,( BTAD)

The violence of Assam is a vital factor to set back the socio-economic development. The people those who are directly affected of violence lost human lives, wealth etc. And those indirectly affected must close their business with violence areas until the situation come into normal. For creation a peaceful atmosphere in Assam it is necessary to remove the most harmful poison ‘Violence’ from the society. I think it is an important matter for every Assamese people.

The present era is a era of competition to all round development. In a terrible situation none can developed in any field. The present condition of Assam is not suitable for development in any side. It is necessary to study of the violence in Assam and find out the path of solution is the demand of the present era to build a peaceful, fearless and fearful Assam.
