1.1 Hypotheses

Based on the aims and objectives of the study highlighted in the previous section, the following hypothesis is proposed to be established based on the quantitative evidence made available through the survey.

H1- There will be a significant association between specific behavioral problems and specific substances addiction (Drug Abuse).

H2- There will be a significant association between specific behavioral problems and specific substances addiction (Alcohol Abuse).

H3- There will be a significant association between specific Behavioral problems and Gender of patients.

H4: There will be significant association between specific Behavioral problems and Education level of patients.

H5: There will be significant association between specific Behavioral problems and time since being treated at de-addiction center.