STATEMENT OF HYPOTHESIS:

The present study has a central theme to know the social and economic implications of privatization of educational services. The study revolves round the concept, should there be private players in the field of education? and what should be their role? These questions can be answered by laying down following premises as hypothesis for the purpose of this study.

H1(1) It is believed for the purpose of the study that, Privatization of educational services is helpful to improve quality of education. It will be a step forward to enhance the catchment of educational services.

H2(2) The whole concept of privatization of educational services is not based on the principle of social and economic equality. It may lead to concentration of choice to learn in limited hands and may create a social and economic inequilibrium.