Objectives of The study:-

Students and teachers are the main pillars of the school activities. The researcher believes that the effective learning is depends on good implementation of evaluation techniques. These qualities make all around development of student and effective interaction between students and teachers. The researcher has taken up this study with the following objectives in view. They are –

- To find the efforts of implementation of evaluation techniques in science.
- To study the interaction between teaching a learning process through evaluation techniques in science.
- To study the effectiveness of evaluation techniques in science.
- To study the process of learning and evaluation at same time by evaluation techniques in science.
- To find the role of teacher, parents and students in the implementation of evaluation techniques in science.